David Leask: Will Putin's Russia fall apart? And should the West help it to do so?

Jim Raymond
4th June 2022 11:51 am

User ID: 3891991
Why is the cause of this war never mentioned? Go back to 2014 and the bloody takeover of Ukraine by unelected tyrants. Straight away these tyrants started bombing the Donetsk area which is wholly Russian speaking area. This has been ongoing for the last 8 years with a reported 14,000 folk killed. Russia finally retaliated to this murdering of it's ethnic community.

David Leask
4th June 2022 12:15 pm

User ID: 1009398
Ah, the liar who was repeating Goebbels lies about Hitlers attack Poland is back once more with lies about Putins invasion of Ukraine. Your personal conduct is rank: I hope you are treated with the contempt you deserve. I hope your friends, family and - crucially employers - find out what kind of a man you are.

Jim Raymond
4th June 2022 3:39 pm

User ID: 3891991
Puerile threats from someone who will not have an open debate on the subject.

David Leask
4th June 2022 3:44 pm

User ID: 1009398
We dont debate with people who repeat Nazi lies. You have no knowledge of history. A debate would be meaningless. Now why dont we test whether your views are within acceptable parameters for a democracy? Let me know where you work and Ill be happy to see what they think. Is Jim Raymond your real name? This is for a story on the pro-Putin far right in Scotland. Your publications here have been recorded as evidence of how people with pro-Hitler views are also backing Putin lies.

Jim Raymond
4th June 2022 4:08 pm

User ID: 3891991
More puerile threats and still no debate . Why are you afraid to debate me? Debate me and prove to the folk reading this that I have no knowledge of history.

David Leask
4th June 2022 4:23 pm

User ID: 1009398
Mr Raymond, Im not here to debate you, Im investigating you. Youre the subject of a journalistic inquiry about people who repeat ageing Nazi lies and modern Putin disinformation. I dont need a quote from you; your publications here suffice.. However, I do want to know where you work, where you live, what your real name is and how old you are. If you think your posts here are acceptable, you will no doubt be able to answer these standard journalistic questions. David Leask, journalist

Jim Raymond
4th June 2022 11:33 pm

User ID: 3891991
Yet more Puerile threats. Where I work and where I live are of absolutely no concern to you. I am looking for an open, insult free, intellectual debate.

Jim Raymond
5th June 2022 9:36 pm

User ID: 3891991
David Leask refuses to debate me on the origins of WW2.

I will start the debate:
WW2 started in 1919 at the Versaille conference in Paris, culminating in the 'Versaille treaty' which put massive reparations on Germany for purportedly starting WW1 (which is another debate), it also stripped massive lands off Germany giving them to Poland , the newly formed Checkoslovakia, Hungary and France.

WW2 was officially called in March 1933 when the world jewish congress declared a holy war on Germany and an international boycott of all German goods, just two months after Adolf Hitler was voted into office (yes, voted into, not the hollywood narrative that most folk believe that he was a dictator)

Trying to make this short. Adolf Hitler was negotiating with the Polish leader Marshall Pilsudski on very favourable terms to come to an agreement over the city of Danzig which was 100 % percent German ethnic but, had been set as a free state by the afore mentioned Versaille treaty and was controlled by the league of nations giving Poland the tacit control of the city.

Again, trying to make this short. Opposing the good intentions of Marshall Pilsudski was the Polish ambassador to Germany Josef Beck, he put many spanners in the works preventing a peaceful outcome.

Unfortunately Marshall Pilsudski died in 1935 and opening the way for a very bellicose leader of Poland, Edward Rydz-Smigy. Things went very downhill from then.

Forward to 1939 (but very many things happened in between which will need a book to explain, a book which will be referenced at the end of this post) and the further negotiations of the 'Danzig corridor' became untenable with Becks and Ridz-Smiglys bellicose intransingence and the promise from Great Britain that they had Polands back. Subsequently, Polish extremists and bolsheviks began a pogrom against German ethnics within the corridor. This was reported to the League of nations by Germany but no action was taken. Finally, and this is documented, after Polish incursions into Germany itself the Germans decided to invade Poland to save their folk. It was calculated, once it was over and the "phony war" was ongoing (unbeknownst to the majority of British folk these days is that nothing happened between Germany and Poland for a year until Neville Chamberland stood down and Winston Churchill took over in May 1940, then, WW2 really got under way) that 35,000 German ethnics were murdered and 15,000 were officially missing. This is documented by the 'Official German White Book' (each country going into war where indebted to publish an "Casus Belli". Britain had the 'Blue book'.

Germany entered Poland to save their own ethnic kin from murder, the same as any self respecting country would do.

Some good books of reference about this are :

' The Forced War- When Peaceful Revision Failed ' by David Hoggan.

Also:

'The Origins of the Second World War' by A.J.P Taylor

And:

'A Few Minutes Before Midnight' by Dr Harrell Rhome

David Leask
6th June 2022 12:21 pm

User ID: 1009398

Anybody who knows the real identity, address, place of work, occupations, age and background of this Nazi and Putin apologist, please get in touch with me. Its for a story I am researching on the far right in Scotland and Putinism. My Twitter handle is the byline above and my DMs are open.